Industry: Retail Project

dōTERRA is the world leader in sourcing, testing, manufacturing, and distributing CPTC® essential oils through a global network of more than five million customers. Founded in 2008, doTerra has experienced rapid global growth and realised that they needed a new UK office in Milton Keynes to support their growth strategy.

RSR was recommended to doTerra by a previous client, based on our ability to create a vision for an inspiring office environment, and to deliver on that vision. In a fast-paced 5-week programme we took this space from a blank canvas to a stylish and thoroughly impressive modern office. We designed the location to meet the client's current and future needs, and included a number of unique touches throughout, such as the slate reception wall and custom curved partitions, to give the client an impressive and distinctive office.

Our client was looking for a bright and spacious office, with room to expand as their business grows.

This was a high-end project which showcased RSR's creativity and quality of service. Our proactive and responsive approach were key to the success of this project. Using our core principles of cost efficiency, technical expertise, as well as high quality project and site management, we were able to adapt and flex with any changes required throughout the project, whilst still delivering on time and to budget, with a happy client.
